FEEDS, SEEDS AND WEEDS.

How Some Connecticut Farmers Are Made to Sow Tares on Their Farms.

The following abstract is from Bulletin 161, issued by the Connecticut experimental station, at New Haven.
There are a number of mixtures sold as feeds in this state which contain large quantities of seeds of undesirable and pestiferous weeds of which a considerable portion are alive, and will under proper conditions, promptly germinate and grow.
The weed seeds are not always quickly detected by casual inspection, because they are variously mixed with chaff and out husks, with linseed, barley and corn products and are often mixed or smeared with molasses.
These are not naturally not mentioned in the statements of composition, yet they are more important to the buyer than the chemical analysis.
A moderate food value may be granted to ground weed seeds, or to some species of them, but it is very doubtful if small whole seeds are broken up and digested by the animal.
It has been proved that fermenting manure kills many weed seeds when they are kept in it for some time, but common experience fully justifies the belief that the farm may be stocked with weeds which come along with the manure.
Weed seeds which are scattered abundantly wherever feed and feed residues are scattered, will soon make their appearance in the fields.

ELECTRIC POWER

Being Utilized by Torrington Ice Company in Various Ways.

The Torrington Ice company has applied electricity to its ice hoisting apparatus, displacing steam power and horses, hitherto in vogue. Thirty-five horse power motors are used, with the current from the lines of the Torrington Electric Light company.
The power lines run to the East Branch reservoir. The motors, transformers and regulators are mounted on wheels and transported from place to place on a road, reducing investment charges.
Electric lights have been installed in the icehouses, which before had been left in darkness, making the workmen safer. In time of a short crop it is now possible, with these new acquisitions, to work day and night. The new method is clean, safe and economical.
This is a new use for electricity and is proving a big success for the Torrington Ice company.

SCHOOL CARPENTER

Has Saved Much Money for City of Meriden.

Many citizens of Meriden have asked during the past year what has been done to reduce the cost of the school.
George J. Stanley take charge of the board followed the example of a number of other communities, and in creating the place a year ago and the report from Mr. Stanley shows that they acted wisely. In closing, he says:
"The board has paid for carpenter and other work under my charge the sum of $2,817.77 for $12,125 labor, which is a saving of $9,307.23 to the town.
I have bought lumber and hardware at the lowest possible figure, thereby saving the town many thousands of dollars."

SLOCUM TABLET.

Memorial Slab Placed at Entrance to St. Thomas' R. C. Church.

In commemoration of the late Rt.
Rev. Mons. William J. Slocum, the fishermen of St. Thomas' church, Watterbury, have had placed over the main entrance to the church a marble tablet four feet high and two feet wide. The slab was put in position Saturday and the words inscribed are in black marble on a white background, so that persons from quite a distance can read the following:
In memory of Right Reverend Monsignor William J. Slocum, under whose superstition this church was erected and dedicated, A. D. 1895. Born Feb.
6, 1852. Died Oct. 22, 1935. Requiescat in pace.

MRS. MARY WRIGHT

Died in Japan—Was Making Tour of the World.

Word has been received in New Haven of the death of Mrs. Mary Wright in Japan. Mrs. Wright was making a tour of the world at the time of her death. She is a daughter of the late Daniel Adams, who formerly lived on falo and one in Boston, and by one sister, Mrs. Ekins, wife of Dr. W. L. Ekins of the Yale observatory.

A Strange Animal.

Fred P. Bowen, superintendent of Walton's Park, recently made the discovery that he has the body of the strange animal which has devastated numerous households in different sections of the city. He found the animal dead in his barn several days ago.
Those who have seen it say it is a cross between a bob cat and a razor-backed dog. It has the body of the hog, and the legs, neck and to some extent the head of a lynx.

The wireless telephone will be dem- onstrated on the grounds of the Ala- ska-Yukon-Pacific exposition.

The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed.
To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.
